MEN WHO MADE OMAHA CORN EXPOSITION

A SUCCESS AND WHERE IT IS HELD

[The International Corn Exposition being held in Omaha is one of the largest agricultural undertakings carried to successful fruition in many years. All of the corn States are represented by interesting exhibits, and the United States Government has taken advantage of the opportunity to demonstrate many new ideas in farming and the uses of farm products. Chief among the Government exhibits is a complete plant for the manufacture of denatured alcohol. One thousand medals are offered as individual and State prizes, and there are many fine trophies in the form of silver cups for the best yield of corn per acre in the various States. This illustration shows the Omaha auditorium, where the show is being held and the committee which made it a success. The men in the group—from left to right, standing—are Bruce McCullough, E. Buckingham, F. L. Haller, T. F. Sturges, D. B. Fuller, Rome Miller, J. Willes Jones, Emil Brandels; sitting—left to right—Victor E. Bender, C. C. Rosewater, G. W. Wattles, C. F. McGraw and Charles W. Martins.]

JOHN W. GATES, STEEL MAGNATE, WHO WILL BACK CIRCUS COMBINE

The latest financial undertaking of John W. Gates, the multimillionaire steel magnate, who is now a resident of Texas, is a combination of several circuses and menageries to compete with the big circus combine controlled by the Ringling brothers. The shows that Mr. Gates is about to merge and finance with $5,000,000 capital are the Sells-Floto circus and the Hagenback, Rhoda Royal and John Robinson shows. His purpose is to make the new combination the largest tented amusement enterprise ever offered to the American public.

YACHT

PALATIAL POWER YACHT IS COMING

MRS. S. C. ALLEN ORDERS FINE
CRUISER

Craft Will Be Handsomely Fitted Up and Will Have Fine Sleeping Accommodations—Hawaiian Wood Will Be Used in Cabin—Electric Lights

When the Chiyo Maru left here for San Francisco she carried an order for a palatial power yacht for Mrs. S. C. Allen. The yacht is to have a length of sixty-two feet over all, will be of eleven feet nine inches beam, and will be fitted with a 50-horse-power gasoline engine.

Nothing approaching the proposed craft is owned in these waters, and, of her kind, the boat will be one of the finest afloat. She will have sleeping accommodations for eight people, without crowding, and would accommodate much more on a pinch. The yacht must develop a speed of at least thirteen knots.

The specifications call for a good sea boat and one that will behave well in all kinds of weather.

One of the attractive features of the yacht will be the cabin. This will be finished entirely in koa and will be equipped with four Pullman berths, such as are used for upper berths in sleeping cars.

The engine room will be fitted up with two berths of the same kind. There will be one stateroom, fitted up in as complete and attractive a manner as any on board an ocean greyhound.

In furnishing his estimates, the builder suggested finishing the cabin in koa. He evidently was unacquainted with the fact that koa comes from these islands, for he went into a long explanation regarding the wood, which he described as being a little darker than mahogany.

The quarter deck is to be fitted up as a lounging deck, and will be equipped with an awning which will furnish ample protection from the sun. There will be numerous pleasant nooks along the decks and on the foredeck for the accommodation of the travelers and every convenience that can be imagined is included in the plans.

In place of the ordinary dingy, the yacht will carry a power cutter, equipped with a 2-horsepower gasoline engine. This cutter will be swung from davits and will be easily handled.

Entirely independent of the propelling engine of the yacht will be the electric lighting plant. Not only will the craft be lighted throughout by electricity, but she will have a powerful electric searchlight.

The yacht is being built by P. Swanson at Belvedere, California, and must, under the agreement, be delivered by August next. James Jaeger, Mrs. Allen's nephew, has charge of the arrangements.

KAM NOTES.

There will be two soccer games played on the Kamehameha grounds this afternoon. The first game, between the Aliolani and Punahou, will start at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a dress parade on the Kamehameha drill grounds Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Last Sunday's parade was witnessed by a large number of town folk.

HAWAII COMES TOMORROW.

W. H. McInerney will go to Pearl Harbor early tomorrow morning with a crew of yachtsmen to bring the Hawaii here. An early start will be made that the trip back may be completed before sundown no matter how unfavorable the conditions may be. Mr. McInerney will have command of the yacht on the trip.

THE A. H. Freighter Pielades leaves for San Francisco today with a load of sugar and a large amount of fresh fruits. The Pielades will in future make a specialty of fruit-carrying and will be kept on the San Francisco-Honolulu run.

SOCIAL NOTES

The hop at the Moana hotel last evening was a very exclusive affair, the guests being personally invited and no general invitation issued. The halls and lounging room were made most attractive by comfortable chairs and couches, while palms and greens were artistically placed. The ladies were thronged with guests and the bridge tables were filled. Mrs. Elizabeth Church made a delightful hostess and looked out that everybody had a good time. There were many little dinners preceding the dance, among others entertaining being Mr. and Mrs. Grinbaum, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Collins, Mrs. Robertson and several others. Pretty girls everywhere and officers galore. A strong combination for a gay and successful affair. These dances are to be given each Friday night, and they are to be kept most exclusive.

Mrs. Charles Cooper, who will sail for the Coast at an early date, is to be the guest of honor at a pot supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney this evening at the Pensacola street mansion. Mrs. Cooper has not been to Europe for several years and her trip is much anticipated. She is one of the most popular society matrons here and everybody will miss her gracious presence and sweet smile.

Mrs. Edwin Farmer entertained with cards Wednesday evening at Mrs. Gray's, on King street. It was a very pleasant evening.

Mr. Ernest Hartmann expects to sail for the Orient today, after a visit here of several weeks. Mr. Hartmann has been regularly feted, so many varied have been the entertainments given for him. It is a source of great regret that he can't remain here, and his friends hope he will return in the near future to Hawaii. Among the many dinners given him was that of the Deering on Wednesday, when beautiful flowers, a perfect menu and good company made the hours fly. After dinner Mr. Deering motored his guest to see the town, which was in the hands of the Chinese, being their New Year, and a supper at the Grill ended a delightful evening.

Mrs. Whitney has cards out for an At-Home on Thursday next in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. W. Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Miller are recent guests at the Moana hotel.

CAMERAPHONE AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Tonight the Cameraphone will make its first bow to a Honolulu audience. The program selected is sure to please as it made up of operatic duets, solos and solos, as well as vaudeville acts and dramatic numbers.
